Holidays and Vacations

Students in off-campus placements during their third or fourth semesters of graduate school are expected to follow the university calendar for breaks and vacations, unless the clinical practicum site has an extended break during the semester. If the site has an extended break, i.e., Spring Break in the schools, the student should take the break at the site and not the university break. Students in Internship are expected to take any vacation or holiday offered by the site. They do not take the University holidays.
