Professional Liability Insurance

The Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders maintains a blanket liability policy for all students in the program. It is renewed each year to cover all practicum and internship experiences. The policy is purchased through the state of North Carolina with the Marsh Affinity Group. The Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders assures that insurance is current and up-to-date at all times during the practicum assignments.